GET TO KNOW OUR COMMITTEE MEMBERS
& AMAZING VOLUNTEERS

Lisa Donning. GENERAL COMMITTEE MEMBER

Lisa Donning

Is one of our newest committee members who was also recently voted onto the NZAC board.

I'm a relative newbie to NZAC, becoming a member only last year after realising there was more to the club than I'd originally thought during a weekend of climbing and hiking at the Unwin Lodge weekend at Aoraki/Mount Cook. I was delighted when I was asked to join the committee, particularly after putting my hand up for a Board position (thank you if you voted for me!) and receiving several messages from women celebrating my willingness to get involved. This really highlighted that women want to get involved but there are barriers that we can work through to bring more diversity to the club.

I moved to Aotearoa/New Zealand from England 15 years ago and I've been exploring our beautiful maunga/mountains for around 5 years. I didn't realise what I'd been missing out on! Since then I've climbed a lot of rock and hiked and run along a lot of trails and while I haven't quite made the foray into mountaineering I'm told it's just a matter of time. That and my huge fear of ridgelines, which seems to be a bit of a barrier.

I'm settling into my role on the committee and learning where and how I can help. From what I've seen it's a group of incredibly committed people who genuinely love this community and do what they can to provide a safe space for us to learn, kōrero, and ultimately enjoy this beautiful motu/island.

If you would like to join our committee or give back to the club in any way, please contact Sam White at cw.chairperson@gmail.com We currently have a role for someone to fill as Trip Coordinator.

EVERY EFFING INCH

Extract from Tim Pankhurst's 'EVERY EFFING INCH'

'Every Effing Inch' is my account of walking the Te Araroa with my wife Sue and former Wellington mayor Dame Kerry Prendergast.

A woman on a bike pulls up beside us on a track on a winter's day in the pines behind Tawa just north of Wellington and asks: are you doing the Te Araroa Trail? No, we say, we're not, but we're going to. We're in training for it. We'll set off in the spring. Are you doing EFI?, she responds. We are puzzled. EFI? What's that?

Every Fucking Inch.

We laugh and look at each and say yes, we guess we are.

And that was to be our mantra. Whenever the going got tough over the days, weeks, months and two summers to follow, when we were bone weary and the temptation is to skip a dangerous piece of connecting road, or a tricky and inconvenient estuary or river crossing, we would mutter EFI. Every Fucking Inch.

Our feeling was, if you are going to walk the 3012km length of New Zealand – the long pathway - you need to be true to that, whatever the terrain.

As to why we would want to do that, that was a little more difficult to answer. Most of our friends wondered if we were serious and when we seemed so and actually set out, decided we were idiots.

One took to calling me soldier, which he explained was a slang term to describe those who spend large portions of their waking hours pointlessly exercising. This from a man with a small but perfectly formed beer gut.

Walk Forrest, walk, laughed another.

The only reason I would take up walking is so that I could hear heavy breathing again, said another.

He added: walking can add minutes to your life. This enables you at 85 years to spend an additional five months in a nursing home at $7000 per month.

My old friend Joe Bennett, consistently the country's most erudite comedic columnist, the closest we have to The Spectator's Jeremy Clarke, although a life not as low, offered some perspective.

At 40 it is a mid-life crisis when you realise half your life is over – and that was the best bits. Tantric sex and dropping out to become a potter may seem the answer. That is before returning to the office as usual.

But in the mid-60s it is a late-life crisis when you realise you are shuffling forward with the crowd along an enormous diving board and the people in front have started plunging off the end into the chlorinated water of oblivion. There is no turning back, the people behind are shuffling inexorably forward.

This is when the question looms: Is that it?

Joe says there are various forms of self-deluding therapies available. Like golf.

But none of these are for me. I'm too fast for tantric sex, too uncreative for potting and you can't be a fisherman and play golf, which in any case is a particularly pointless exercise that no one can ever master. Except perhaps North Korea's Supreme Leader Kim Jong-un, reputed to have completed a round in 18 shots, a hole in one every time. The only person within his inner circle to voice the ever so slightest doubt about this extraordinary feat was strapped to a cannon, with sufficient time to consider how far and wide his remains would spread.

So what else to do to ward off dementia and rheumatism while striving to avoid the business end of the diving board, but to walk?

Every Effing Inch will be published on Nov 8, rrp $40.

A special pre-publication price of $30 (plus p&p) is offered to NZAC members.

It is available direct from the Underground Bookstore (theundergroundbookstore.nz) or major bookstores.

WE NEED YOU

The NZAC Canterbury/Westland section is looking for volunteer trip leaders

A club trip is a great way to spend time with like minded people, share some adventures and give back to the outdoor community. Most trips involve moderate to intermediate mountaineering but they can include anything from tramping, rock climbing to mountaineering objectives. The trip leader is not a professional guide or instructor, as a trip leader you organise and lead the group only.

What is involved?

- Pick an objective and date
- Use this trip leader worksheet to plan your trip
<https://alpineclub.org.nz/resources/organising-trips/>
- Get in contact with the trip coordinator (see details below).
- Your trip needs to be signed off to make sure all points are ticked off. The trip coordinator can also help you with any questions you have regarding the planning
- The trip gets advertised in the newsletter and/or to the Cant/Westland facebook page
Email: Shannon at nzac.cw.newsletter@gmail.com
- You organise the participants and do pre-trip preparations

This list is a suggestion of day or overnight trips which could be both run during summer or winter. All these trips are achievable in a weekend. If you have another objective in mind just get in contact with the trip coordinator. Thanks for leading a trip for the club!

TRIP GUIDELINES

An important part of the NZAC is volunteer organised trips. If you're thinking of joining or organising a trip, here are some guidelines on what to expect. Check out the NZAC Trips page for resources to assist you with planning a section trip. <https://alpineclub.org.nz/resources/organising-trips/>

Responsibilities of a Trip Organiser:

- Trips should be fun for everyone. Choose a mountain, peak, hill, traverse, route, crag, or whatever and get out there and meet some keen club members!
- You cannot be responsible for the safety of every member of the group, but you should aim to empower every group member with enough knowledge to make their own informed decisions about the proposed trip both before, and during the trip.
- Choose a realistic goal for the time available and give prospective group members an idea of the amount of effort required.
- Set a group size limit based on your experience, the goal, time available and the groups individual fitness and experience.
- Let the group know what skills & equipment are needed when they sign up.
- Provide the trip Participants with a copy of the NZAC waiver form and have them understand, sign and return it to you in advance of the trip.

- Organise travel arrangements at the earliest opportunity and let everyone know how much they can expect to pay for transport costs - petrol, wear & tear.
- Prepare detailed trip intentions and leave them with at least one responsible individual.
- If someone on the trip voices their concern about a situation it is up to you (with the help of the group) to find a safe solution.
- Give priority to NZAC members
- Find someone on the trip to write an interesting trip report for the Section Newsletter and email it to: nzac.cw.newsletter@gmail.com

Responsibilities of a Trip Participant:

- You are responsible for your own safety. If you are uncomfortable with any situation, let your trip organiser know straight away.
- Be prepared to drive or contribute to transport costs incurred (petrol, wear & tear)
- Make sure you have a clear idea of the trip's goals and what will be required of you. Obtain a relevant map and know where you are going, the terrain, what gear you will need, and how to use it.

- If you discover that you cannot go on the trip then let the Trip organiser know as soon as possible so that another person can take your place.
- Read, understand and return the signed copy of the NZAC waiver form to the Trip Organiser.
